

ALL OF THE HEAVENS

As then, as now. There are eternal truths about our loving Universe that I wish to share with all those seeking answers about their existence. Herein lies my teachings to humanity from my current existence outside the veil of your illusion during your time on Earth. These are not the words I taught during my time on Earth, but are what I believe to be the most valuable lessons I can share with you in this magnificent time of Ascension.

Jesus

For seekers of sentience

ALL OF THE HEAVENS

Copyright © 2022 by Akara

All rights reserved. This book or any portion thereof may not be reproduced or used in any manner whatsoever without the express written permission of the publisher except for the use of brief quotations in a book review.

Printed in the United States of America

First Printing, 2022

ISBN 978-1-951242-03-9

Second Coming Publishing

PO Box 2910

Cupertino, CA 95014

SecondComingBooks.com

FOREWARD

The love I wish to bring forward to you in these lessons is not what I taught during my time on Earth, but rather what I know and understand to be truths from the other side of the veil.

You are immersed in the most magnificent game of expansion and the Universe is watching you with the loving eyes of a parent. So proud of each and every one of yours existence in the veiled time-space reality of Earth.

Much of the game you are playing in now has had many “rules” that you have been unaware of: by design. Many of you came to play blind-folded, but for those who now choose to play at a different level, my teachings herein are gifted for those who choose to work with them.

The most important message I have for you is that you are a Master playing through a very divine plan that you designed for yourself. You are eternal and this is but one game amongst many you will play in within our Universe, eternally.

This game though at this magnificent time of Ascension for Earth is unique: the veil is being lifted as energies rise and Earth assumes a new partnership with her brothers in the Universe.

CONTENTS

Foreward I

Contents III

One The peoples of the universe 1

Two Earth's neighbors 7

Three Cross dimensions 11

Four The eternal flow of energy 17

Five Sentient beings 23

Six Jupiter, Venus, Mars 29

Seven Our sun 35

Eight Time & Travel 41

Nine Intergalactic Light Federation 45

Ten Universal codes of honor 49

Eleven Respect, Dignity, Grace 55

Twelve Eternal growth 61

Thirteen Mountains to climb 65

Fourteen Rivers to cross 69

Fifteen Benevolence for all 73

Sixteen Oneness 77

Seventeen Our DNA 83

Eighteen Future explorations 91

Nineteen Awakening 95

Twenty Universal truths to behold 101

Twenty-One The majesty of our universe 105

Twenty-Two The call for love 109

The peoples of the universe

As man and humanity will continue to evolve in eternity there will always remain questions about one's existence. Both as and of a man's self as well as the Universe you are dwelling in. That is part of the perfection of the Universal plan for creation and expansion.

My guidance for all men, at all times, is to dream big! There is nothing that you cannot be, do or have that once thought will not be provided to you. This is a big concept for Earth's humanity in these days, but it is practiced with grace and dignity throughout the Universe. It is practiced by your brothers and all the peoples of the galaxy and Universe at all times and for eternity.

Your Universal "brothers" understand their abundance and that it flows faster and with more fun and respect as they embrace and support the abundance of their fellow brothers, including man on Earth.

This is the premise I wish to speak of in this book. This is not what I taught when I walked the Earth as the one you know as Jesus; but it is now what I more fully know and understand from this side of the veil. I so want you to now trust in my words that you are safe, loved and adored by all the Peoples of the Universe that have set an intention to share with you their abundance that they believe will help Earth in these critical and beautiful times of Ascension back to the Fifth Dimension.

Their gifts you must understand are in return feeding their own souls and consciousness'. They fully understand that any judgment or act of malice would be immediately reflected back onto themselves so it is not in their fiber to act in any manner other than with an effort to nourish themselves. Selfish? Yes. Absolutely. And that is my guidance to all who now are reading these expanded teachings of mine to help you understand your existence and place among your brothers in our Universe.

As you create, dream, relax, play and choose Love for yourself and all those around you, you then set yourself up for the sharing of your gifts to your fellow man and you will feel the energetic flow of that divine grace back into yourself. Know it. There are no accidents. You are the Master creators I have spoken to you of. You must knowingly acknowledge this Universal cycle of creation to thrive.

So as I have written about your ability to play this game of choosing Love over fear with your fellow man on Earth, regardless of the veil you have separated yourself under, now is the time to play at the next level. It is time to play the Universal game with your intergalactic brothers as they begin piercing the Earth's veil and extending their hand to you. That hand contains the gifts that humanity needs now to recover the energetic balance of the Earth to its natural glory and allow for all men to live now with Peace on Earth.

I will state now that if my words do not resonate with you, let it be. That is your Free Will choice and it is respected and known of throughout the Universe. You will not be judged, and even if you cannot feel and cognize the Love that is being showered on you, you will when you reconnect with all of us as you pass back through the veil to your divine consciousness.

There are no
accidents.
You are the master
creators.

For those men who are playing this game of Love whilst under the veil, you are being provided a beautiful and grand opportunity to push yourselves to new levels of consciousness as you begin to understand the depth of the Full Disclosure of these brothers of the Universe to you. This Disclosure will begin soon, and then follow in waves based on a loving and divine plan from our side of the veil.

This exercise, as in choosing Love over fear with all humans you are co-existing with will take the game to a new level as you meet and greet the other loving civilizations that will be here soon.

This is no accident. This is all in response to so many humans now who have asked for help on your planet. Asked for clean air, clean and abundant water and food, peace and health. Your asking is being answered in the only way possible in these times, which is by your intergalactic brothers. This is the Law of Attraction at work at a beautiful multi-dimensional level.

The answering of the requests of so many on Earth are now ready to be gifted. It is up to the Earth's humanity to receive these gifts. This is a very big leap of faith for almost all of humanity with the programming and orchestrated indoctrination you all hold within your consciousness.

Almost every man on Earth would believe that if they came face to face with an intergalactic or extra-terrestrial there would be a conflict. Yes, you may envision some that were "friendly" but the vast majority of men would be faced with massive fear. Massive. This is the time to take notice, relax, discern and choose Love. Trust Love.

Earth's neighbors

As one looks at the heavens above, especially on a clear star filled night, every man under this veil cannot help but feel the wonder of the Universe spark within their soul. The Universe we live in is magnificent, benevolent and loving. It is full of magic and mysteries waiting to unfold.

The stars one sees above are homes to an infinite number of beautiful civilizations of every race, creed and mix one can imagine. They knowingly reside in this Universal playground of love together, reaching out to one another as they continue in their joint desires to expand the Universe.

Now is the time for Earth's human race to reach out and become an active participant in this expansion on a greater level. To begin, there needs to be a full acknowledgement of your neighbor's existence. If you cannot believe this premise — that you are not alone, you will not be judged: we all understand, but, you cannot play this game that was designed by the Creator.

Secondly, you must acknowledge that all the new paradigms of living on Earth with visits from your celestial brothers will be loving. You have been deeply programmed with intention to the contrary so finding a safe place with a neutrality of your spirit is a major step forward in realigning your consciousness that it is safe.

Thirdly, when introduced to your celestial brothers for the first time an intention of curiosity, once you feel safe, will then open the flood gates for the beautiful new interactions you may all experience.

Imagine a man in the middle ages, being introduced to an airplane of today. Boarding in comfort, with curiosity, and without fear. Looking around at the luxury of the seats, marveling at the engines, surprised at the lavatories for convenience. The smiling faces of people asking him what he would like to eat and drink, then strapped into a seat. Then relaxed, the engines fire up and the plane begins to move faster and faster. There is a flutter in his heart. He does not know what is going to happen next, but those around him are relaxed, so he relaxes and stays curious.

Then there is a rush of leaving the ground — for him, the first time. It is exhilarating for this man who has stepped into this new paradigm of travel. As he is lifted in the air with this “silver bird” he may well be anxious, but he is committed; he knows it. There is no going back in his mind to ever forget this experience.

The plane levels off and as he gazes now out the window he is stricken with awe. He cannot believe his eyes or what is happening. It is all new on so many levels. As he peers out the window and beholds the beauty of looking at the clouds from above, the forests and seas, he can barely believe his eyes, but he knows from his limited perspective from the ground what he is seeing. For him all of this experience is complete magic. All new. All beautiful to behold. He is breathless as he relaxes more into this ride for him into the unknown.

This is the perspective and story I want you to remember and feel. Most men of these days will remember their first flight with a nervous excitement, but also with a much broader base of knowledge of what they were about to experience. They understood air travel. They felt it would be safe. It allowed for faster travel to new adventures, or dreams or any place they may choose. There was a trust.

This is what is awaiting humanity now as the hands of your brothers from other planets are extended to you. This will be the ride of a lifetime for those who choose to experience it with a loving, trustful curiosity. These brother’s faces will be smiling from the inside and out as they gently will provide you with a new means of experiencing this beautiful planet Earth as well as your expanded adventures into our galaxy.

Crossing dimensions

There exists a spectacular parallel world from what most of humanity has been led to understand and believe. When the concept of all reality as a function of energy combined with the concept of all space and time existing together as one is cognized, then the understanding of the multiple dimensions that are co-existing now in our Universe is possible.

A dimensional level of existence equates to a vibration and frequency of energy for those in it. The Earth has been existing in a Third Dimensional reality for many years now, although the design of the planet was always meant to be held and sustained in a Fifth Dimensional energy. How the evolution of the move from a Fifth to Third Dimensional reality will not be addressed here as its context and true history would take away from my goal and desire for you to know that of which is presently happening now, and that is Ascension.

The Earth has crossed back to her original Fifth Dimension design and is holding her light for all of humanity to now follow. Slowly, but with a gain in momentum the Earth's humanity is beginning their Ascension with a crossing of dimensions on the planet.

No matter
your condition, emotion or physicality, you are perfect.

What does Ascension mean? It means there is an increase in energy in its simplest terms. Your body is holding your own personal energy in your divine vessels. Every tree, creature and ocean is holding their energy. Everything is energy and the level of energy held is a direct function of your consciousness and the thoughts you think.

So as I continue to speak to you about energy and dimensions I want for you to fully understand that there truly is nothing more for you to do than be aware of where you are standing in this present moment. Where you are, no matter what your condition, emotion or physicality, was designed by you and is perfect. You are right where you should be energetically.

You are all Masters and chose to be here on Earth at this beautiful time to experience the energy rising. For those of you who can feel the rise in your physical bodies, it can be exhilarating. If you work to restrict this divine flow of increased energy, which is what your ego will drive you to, then your ride may become a bit “bumpy,” but make no mistake, you are on this ride and there is no stopping it or turning back.

My best advice for all during Ascension is to just stay curious. This is the softest emotion for you to feel when you and those around you may be fighting the flow. Do your best not to judge yourself on any front or any matter, nor that of your fellow man. You are all on your own unique and personal journeys. You all came with great Light and Love to share with this beautiful planet. Your light is so much greater than you know. Your light is your energy, and even if you cannot cognize your eternal and divine light, it is a gift you are giving to Earth and Gaia, just by being here during this brief incarnation.

Your time here is brief as you are all eternal. My advice: make the most of it and enjoy this beautiful ride. Relax into it, stay curious and adore as much of what you choose around you. If something is not as you prefer, then see it as you would like in your thoughts and then give it some of your energy which is ready to over-flow into all of your dreams. Choose Love over fear whenever you are given the opportunity, as this is what you came for.

And then as the light and energy of all humanity rises with the Love that is waiting to reveal itself to so many of you, then the Ascension of Earth will move within you and be beautiful.

If your Free Will and ego pull you to keep your status quo in terms of your thoughts, that is beautiful and perfect as well. The light and energy you have provided is a gift that is being thanked by all in our Universe, without a single exception. You are honored as the Master you are and your divinity is acknowledged. For those Masters that choose to begin to play in a higher energetic frequency now, the world is ready to welcome you to the Fifth Dimension with open arms.

Remember this is a game. There is no one pushing you into this paradigm against your Free Will. Only play where it feels right, but do step into the unknown spaces when you can. They will delight you as you step in with Love. And then once you have a new sense of what you feel when you lift your energy with your choice, then you can decide if you want to do it again.

This game is all generated by your consciousness, which will always reveal itself to you with your thoughts. All your choice. Think it, feel it, acknowledge your emotion and then decide if this is for you.

This is Ascension, and the game you came to play in. My advice is to play this with enthusiasm, curiosity and with no less than the biggest and wildest dreams you can imagine, as truly nothing will be denied to you as you allow your energy to arise to your dreams. My dream for you all to dream now is Peace on Earth which resides in the Fifth Dimension for you all and is awaiting your crossing over to it.

The eternal flow of energy

As we delve into the stream of consciousness that is flowing through us at all times, we will in fact begin to feel more and more the eternal nature of its existence. That existence is you, and as you relax into its being you will then come to know thyself. You are all Masters that have graciously projected your divine energies into the magnificent vessels you have incarnated with. Your vessel is not directing your consciousness, even with its egoic tendency to control you. Your divine consciousness is here now, directing your vessel; loving your ego for all its work in sustaining you and looking and watching and waiting for all the miracles that are being presented to it.

It is a beautiful dance of creation being done on this beautiful planet Earth. You are safe. Your divine energy here now knows this and wants to play and dream all it can. You have been deeply programed to believe otherwise, but you can break free and allow your divinity to lead your days, versus your ego. You are not a victim. No one is. You planned for this veil. You designed and created your ego and you set up all the plays of Masters that surround you. Then you “jumped” into your mother’s womb and said, “Let the games begin.”

And they did. You knew you would have the veil of a blindfold on to start the game. That was a great part of the attraction. The challenge of the game as presented to you. A game you designed.

As your game evolved though, as you knew it would, many factors began hiding the one “lifeline” you had to keep moving forward in the game. That of your divine self giving you guidance as needed for your next moves, with that blindfold still on to your true nature.

The game included the guidance from yourself to remove the blindfold and Awaken to the game more fully so that you could now delight in all that the Earth and her residing Masters were presenting to you. You expected to play with enthusiasm, confidence, and joy. Your higher self, the divine consciousness that is so individually you at all times wants this.

Your connection to your higher self has never left you. But for many of you it has been placed out of reach through fear-based programming in your civilizations through the many institutions that seek to play this game their way at your expense. Many who are playing this game have chosen a path of control over others as their game plan versus playing on a level field where all can play and win their own game.

Competition has been a driving force, versus cooperation, which was how the game on Earth was set up. With that a degradation of the “rules” of the game has evolved.

By design, the few who have advantage and control are winning by their own standards, big pots of money, while the masses keep betting on their survival and losing as they do not understand that the rules have been corrupted.

If you were in a game and you knew the game was “rigged” what would you do? Stay and keep betting because your survival depended on it, but knowing it was futile. Or would you walk away from that game? Walk away perhaps not knowing how you were going to survive without the corrupt players you now cognized, but asking for a better way.

If you were playing a game, and saw that it was rigged, what would you do?

This is where most of your civilization is at now. Many know that this game has been corrupted and are looking about for new ways to play through their incarnation. Where do you look? You look inside and reconnect with yourself. Your divine consciousness will lead you with the most gentle and loving guidance to the game you are meant to play. Trust it and be ready to discern your ego which will have you stay at the same losing game table, versus looking for the higher path you deserve.

This is when, if you have not already been, you must quiet the mind for a bit and listen. Breathe. Relax. Be grateful you have choices and listen. You will hear and feel your connection to yourself realign itself to your consciousness both within your vessel and to that which it is on our side of the veil in eternity.

As you re-establish your connection and feel the eternal flow of it back into your conscious mind you will find relief. You will know what to do. You will be attracted to new game players to co-create with in joy, not in competition. You will thrive.

This is the path that all who Awaken will move forward on. This is the path to Peace on Earth, and it will only be found by getting away from the corrupt game, mind you, without judgment as you have been a willing participant, but now knowingly choosing to play elsewhere by different rules.

Sentient beings

Every time that a child is born a sentient being is created. This applies to all the beautiful souls now incarnated on Earth as well as all of those souls being birthed across the Universe. Sentient beings are not restricted to the human form on Earth, by any means. “Earthlings” as you are affectionately known as are but one form of beings. There are literally billions of forms existing now. Some are existing in time and space realities such as you know here on Earth and many more are existing in higher dimensional forms across the Universe.

The Earth is not the center of our Universe. It is a beautiful piece of the whole, which is in itself a living and breathing and expanding part of all of our realities. You reading this, as the sentient being you are, can physically feel your Third Dimensional reality with your senses. This is no different in other star systems. The physical vessels souls choose to incarnate in as sentient beings are vast in their differences. Many are human like in form. Many not. The form of sentient beings makes no difference to our Creator. Each incarnation is a Free Will choice that is divine and perfect.

The form of
sentient beings
make little difference to our creator.

Each incarnation is a Free Will choice that is divine and perfect.

Much like traveling to a new continent on Earth without any pre-knowledge of what is to be found, the child from Northern regions of barren tundra may be shocked at encountering the aboriginals of the plains of Australia. Just as the human form on Earth is varied, so are other sentient beings beyond Earth. I want you to now take this outside your planet and accept that other sentient beings do exist beyond your Earth; that they hold a consciousness and that many lead lives very similar to yours in terms of birthing, mating, family units and withdrawals of their consciousness, or what you understand to be death, albeit there is no death as all sentient beings are eternal.

Please rest on this analogy for a bit. It should not frighten you, but rather I dream that you will view these brothers from other stars as long lost family to reunite with. You will laugh when you realize at some point in your existence, that many really are part of your eternal star family, but the veil you are existing under now has just kept you from knowing this.

In the not-so-distant future as these sentient beings start showing themselves on your planet you will be cognizant of the emotions this will bring up from your past programming. For some, more fear will rise up. For some who are choosing the path of Love, it will be more curious and fun. I suggest you stay curious if not sure. This is always the better emotion to reach for when you may not be able to process a future event.

If you choose to stay separate and not interact with these brothers from other stars, know that not one of you will be judged. It is your Free Will at work and respected. For many who have knowingly played with their Awakening from the veil here on Earth and stay curious, it is my promise that the most amazing acts of Love, kindness and generosity are awaiting to be bestowed on Earth's humanity.

The tide has risen within enough of the Earth's population who with their Free Will have asked for the interactions with these visitors from the stars, and that will not be denied, just as your choices to stay away will not be denied.

These beings come in peace and are coming now to help your humanity both survive, as well as restore the surface of Earth for Gaia and to assist in your Free Will ascent to the Peace on Earth that is coming. How you choose to play in this new paradigm is yours.

Jupiter, Venus, Mars

As we seek to understand the new paradigms coming to Earth we cannot rely on the current systems of science and technology existing on Earth now to help explain the new realities that will be presented to us. Suffice it to say that what is coming will be deemed as magical. Unexplainable to most men and most certainly entertaining, exhilarating and joyful.

The future interactions with our brothers in our Universe will be wide-spread and from many different star systems and different galaxies, but we also have those within our own solar system that will present themselves with disclosure.

The few on your planet who control abusively your finest resources know these brothers of Jupiter, Venus and Mars and have played with them for years in their game of control on Earth. This is all changing very quickly with the energetic rise of Earth to the Fifth Dimension where their games cannot exist. These brothers have been waiting and will soon walk the surface of Earth, as Earthlings and you too will be able to visit these beautiful planets. The technologies already exist to make this possible. Period.

Look with your own eyes.
Discern all you can from your physical senses.
Stay curious.
Trust yourself.

When the few who have played among our system with their third density vessels are revealed, these humans will have stories to tell of your true history that again, many will absolutely never be able to comprehend. It is not that they could not, but again, the fear-based programming whether religious, science-based or government indoctrinated will keep their minds closed. For those who stay curious, you will be amazed.

As the stories are presented to you I will emphasize that you must discern all with your internal guidance as the majority of your news distribution systems are very corrupt. You must think and feel for yourselves the new paradigms that are coming. Speak among yourselves. Look with your own eyes. Discern all you can from your physical senses. Stay curious. Trust yourself.

If a fellow man is over-whelmed with fear, let it be. If a fellow man is delighted and curious, let it be.

You walk the Earth not to fix any other Master beside you, including your family, friends and all in your communities. This is an enormous ride that all Earthlings are soon to be presented with and just as at your carnivals and fairs, it is your choice as to get on the ride or not.

This is the ride though that will take man to a continued existence on Earth. The ride will swoop up all who are curious enough to get on to new levels of joy and exhilaration in their existence. The ride is safe and full of Love, but you will not understand this until you get on. If you choose not to ride, that is perfect too, but know your choice to hold any other man back is a choice of fear, and powerless.

I would like to talk to you specifically of your brothers on Mars. The history is so much longer and larger than any of you have been presented with. The civilizations there are not “little green men” but rather very human in form. They are existing as Earth now in a multi-dimensional form with varying energetic levels among the population. They are curious about Earth, but as you, are a bit afraid to interact with the current Third Dimensional reality. They do visit regularly at sanctuaries existing now on Earth that are Fifth Dimensional. They know they can do so safely.

They will not push themselves into the density that most humans are living in now on Earth. Can they travel back and forth? Yes, with ease. Can they account for differences in atmosphere and gravity? Yes, with ease. What are they like? Playful creators as are you. Here to experience an incarnation in our solar system. To play in a reality to expand their consciousness.

Their history has highlights and lowlights over the billions of years of its existence. For now, they are ready to play. There are many more advanced intergalactics that will come to play with no fear of the lower energetic level of the Third Dimensional Earth as they can “hold their own” energy. Those from Mars are not at that level. The peoples of Mars do have gifts to share with Earth and most importantly they have their planet to share with all who wish to visit them in Peace.

Many humans from Earth have visited them with control and fear, but that is now done. Mars exists in Peace, and will serve as a wonderful gateway for those on Earth to visit, should they choose to. For many it will be like taking a wonderful and joyful vacation that will be educational, eye-opening and profound.

Venus. Venus is my home so I feel very blessed now to share her story with you. It is a story similar to Mars in that there have been many, many energetic highs and lows in its existence. Venus was “seeded” early by the star system Sirius. The civilizations there are human in form. They reside in a Seventh Dimensional plane and live in Peace and Grace.

They too visit Earth now in her Fifth Dimensional sanctuaries. They observe the Ascension to Fifth of Gaia and stay ready to assist, when asked. They will not intervene anywhere on the Earth’s surface without a direct call.

Venus was the planet that I stepped through on my travels to your solar system. I, as you all, continue to exist in many multi-dimensional forms. I no longer incarnate there, but that is where I too was watching Earth before my incarnation there as the one you know as Jesus.

After the time I spent on Venus I was able to transcend more dimensions at will and that is what I continue to do. Many may be surprised to learn that I do visit Earth but only the Earth that is existing in the Fifth Dimension. This is where I expect to meet many of you in the future.

Jupiter is another magical and magnificent planet that carries higher multi-dimensional energies. Its civilizations are vast. Many human in form. Some requiring no physical vessel. The lands and scapes of Jupiter are breathtaking and are of note throughout your galaxy. The majority of the sentient beings there are working hard to lift the energetic fields of other planets in your solar system so that they too may someday be gifted with their own civilizations to create and expand the Universe.

Does all this sound magical? It is, as is the Universe. It is all there. A complete reality ready for you to play in when you are ready. The path to these new playgrounds in your solar system is Peace on Earth. That is your entry ticket. It is coming for many who choose to break free consciously of the Third Dimension you so bravely choose to incarnate in, so blindly. As the Master you are this is your game of Free Will and consciousness: exploring, creating and choosing your destiny. Herein I have only given you a hint of the magic that awaits you in your solar system, as well as that on a Peaceful Earth.

Our sun

As the Sun rises and sets each day across the beautiful planet Earth, it is often taken for granted that it is the true sustenance of this planet, as well as all of the others. Every star system is the same. When the sun of yours decides to rescind back to a different energetic experience it will take with it all the creations in your solar system.

There is another truth many will find hard to believe but your Sun has a consciousness. Oh you can see it very alive with your telescopes but you cannot grasp the consciousness it holds as well. Many can cognize the energy of the Earth with its Gaia consciousness. You can physically feel the Earth's energy with your feet on the surface. The energy is flowing directly into your vessel.

It is the same with the Sun. You can feel the beautiful solar energy it is sending you with complete balance to keep your planet and vessels alive with energy. Now feel this with the grace of a father to his children in providing what their energetic life forces need for survival to continue to create and play and expand the Universe with their conscious thoughts.

In most civilizations across time the Sun has been worshipped as a God. It knows it has not been taken for granted as the steadfast founder of your solar system. What most men have not understood though is that it too is the home to higher dimensional realms choosing to visit our solar system. Yes, sentient beings reside in the Sun. Powerful beings of much higher dimensions who have also come to play in this star system. Civilizations that exist on the Sun have no need for physical bodies. They can move about within the Sun, which is mostly hollow, at will. The Sun is used as a gathering place of the most respected minds as they observe and learn from all the activities in the system, not just Earth.

So what does all this mean? My desire is for you to begin again to open up your minds to the vast forms of life that are residing here in your own solar system, much less the galaxy and Universe. You are not alone. You are part of a magnificent system that is fueled by Love and lives in the divine grace of this Universe.

All of your “brothers from the stars” have a much better understanding of this than the Masters who walk the surface of the Earth now under the veil. Most cannot believe this but every, without exception, man, woman and child on this Earth plane can, with their choice, create a star system in a different time and space reality. That is your power. Your intergalactic brothers know this, even if you do not. They understand and feel the dense cloud of the illusion most are existing under now and they are here to serve you, as the Masters you are, as in this service to you, they are serving themselves, as we are all One.

Imagine some person you may idolize whether it be your grandmother, a movie star or your child and they have stumbled to the ground in front of you. Most I would expect would immediately lend a hand and help them up, without a single thought of should I walk on and let them get up on their own. Your thought of service is immediate and innate.

Could this grandmother, movie star or child get up on their own, if you were not there? Probably. Would they choose not to and if left alone just eventually decide to pull their energy out

Civilizations
that exist
on the Sun
have no need for physical bodies.

of this incarnation? Perhaps. Might they cry out to be helped? Perhaps. It is all their Free Will choice as it is yours to lend a hand without even asking.

Know, this is not different from your intergalactic brothers. They want innately to help our civilization now get up from the passing Third Dimensional existence and into the stable Earth that is now Fifth Dimensional. They are going to offer assistance in the most loving and gentle ways you can imagine, as they would lift up that grandmother or child. If the child wails - Let me be, they will let it be. Not one will interfere with your Free Will. Know this. You are safe. Many on the Earth are stumbling. Many hands are reaching down to help.

The hands of time will reveal all the Love embodied for Earth now from the Sun to the other planets mentioned to the intergalactic brothers that all have hands extended now. The entire Universe is watching the acts of Love about to be unveiled and every player now in this game is a champion beyond their knowing for just being here. This is the big finale for Earth as you all know it. The Sun will continue to cradle you all on this Third Dimensional plane but it will be up to you as to how you choose to transcend with Mother Earth, Gaia.

Time & Travel

As I speak to you now of the paradigm you are existing in it is with a complete understanding that it is different from the worlds that exist around you. Time is not constant. Time is not relevant. Time is only being provided to your planet as part of the magical “time-space” reality you are existing in. This is a big concept and difficult for most to imagine and cognize but time is not linear as you know it. Time is a gift to allow you to fully develop the choices you make under this veil on Earth.

Time does not exist on our side of the veil. All of this beautiful Universe is experiencing itself now, and with your service to Gaia now it is allowing all to expand. This beautiful paradigm is by design. Our source, our Creator has designed all for the benefit of all.

Suffice it to say, this concept will not sit with most of humanity. It was never meant to, but it is how the Universe exists. Period.

Now I want to speak to you of your ability to travel within the continuum. Again, difficult to imagine that you can travel with your consciousness, outside your physical vessel, instantaneously to any point in the Universe. Why you say would I do this if all is now? You do this in your higher dimensional states to experience all you have become. You do this to expand the other versions of yourself. You do this to play in the quantum consciousness of the whole. Let this rest with you a bit as again, the concepts are not wired into your existing consciousness here on Earth, but they are intuitive in your multi-dimensional consciousness.

As you begin to understand and accept that you are so much more than the physical body you exist in now, then you may gently begin to explore more of your full divinity. You are all Masters of the Universe. You are magical, powerful, sublime, creative and loving. You are not what you see. You are oh so much more and for those who choose to get to know themselves at this level, the magic begins.

You were always meant to a bit “blinded” in your senses as you experience this time on Earth, but never were you to be blinded from a knowledge of your vast power. You were designed to bring that power knowingly to Earth and create new experiences that would joyfully expand your consciousness as well as that of the entire Universe. You traveled here in a projection — an avatar so to speak — to play in this paradigm that allowed you time to choose and to create in a playground that does not exist on our side of the veil. You so wanted to drop into Earth and experience firsthand the emotions that it could provide. Then you knew you would go back home. Safe, satisfied and ready to play again.

I have discussed in my other work, Second Coming, that the Earth has taken a bit of an energetic down turn, but that she is fully Ascending back to the original state she was designed in. For those Masters that choose now to explore in an Awakened state these concepts of time and travel, the door is open. As the sights of men are Awakened, so too shall be their minds. The vast physical shift of the Earth will allow for a reset in the wiring of those Masters who have chosen to stay so that they may then begin to see more than what their physical eyes record to them. This is the space for expansion. Expansion past the limiting belief systems that are dissolving away.

As men see into the stars with a curious mind, they will then see more of their multi-dimensional nature and that of the Universe. With the small acknowledgement that you as an individual are existing in a multi-dimensions at the same time, you can then begin to understand the true nature of the non-existence of time outside the Earth’s reality you are playing in now.

My advice is to look to the stars as you look within for the answers you seek. All are awaiting your Awakening to see them clearly.

Intergalactic Light Federation

The Intergalactic Light Federation are your brothers. They represent a vast conglomeration of Masters and Guides that are here now watching over the current Ascension of the planet back to her original Fifth Dimensional design. This group of very evolved beings includes many names you would recognize and many more you would not. They are omnipotent, powerful, loving and playful beings that are here for any and all Masters who are incarnated now to call on.

They typically work in teams designed for the best interest of all. There are hundreds of them on call now, and you can be certain, they love to be asked to provide their service of guidance.

I serve on many councils with these Masters. Many is the time I may be asked individually for guidance, when in fact it is a very specific set of people who are actually providing the full communication that may be heard or understood.

Yes, I used the word people. Most appear when in this dimension of service as human. Oh yes there are beautiful variations, much more so than all the races existing on Earth now, but very clearly human in the DNA they carry.

These Masters are here in service. The Earth asked, and then received this assistance. They are serving both Gaia and humanity. Their service is a reflection back to them resulting in a continuing, loving expansion of our Universe.

They reside on multiple, beautiful, exquisite space craft about the Earth's plane. Highly evolved technologies and systems, not uncommon amongst the galaxy and Universe. They have been created to make their time of service to Earth — I will say — comfortable. Very comfortable.

They exist in higher dimensions so not typically seen by the human eye, but that is not their mission; yet. They are best acknowledged through an open mind that can ask and listen for guidance.

There are legions of beautiful souls in service on these ships. Commander Ashtar is in charge of the fleet as well as serving as a guide to many. Of particular note is the beautiful systems and technologies of this fleet that are awaiting to be gifted to Earth's humanity as full disclosure of their existence is acknowledged.

This beautiful core of Masters, ships and technologies, and knowledge is here in service to all. They are keenly aware and respectful of the Free Will nature of each Master on Earth for their incarnation so it is only with an individual's "asking" for their guidance or help that they will then come forth.

How does one begin to interact with the Intergalactic Light Federation? Just ask. You will always be heard, and answered. For some the answers will be more clearly heard, but that is a function of your ability to open your mind to this wondrous group of light beings. As more humans ask for their guidance, the more the cognition of their gifts to your humanity will be revealed.

These beings, mostly human and some who have taken on other recognizable forms are sublime. They are pure Love, gentle, kind and filled with infinite intelligence. Their beauty both within and out is a wondrous glimpse into the loving diversity of our Universe.

Beyond their services described they are also here protecting the planet in a beautiful energetic bubble to allow for a pure Ascension back to the Fifth Dimension. A Fifth Dimensional existence that includes Peace on Earth. Humanity needs to move the consciousness of the Earth plane to this energetic level, but there is help at hand with the Intergalactic Light Federation.

Universal codes of honor

As we lean into more of a multi-dimensional playground with our galactic brothers it is important to know how to behave with honor. There are loving rules that transcend the Universe and are acknowledged by all sentient beings. Rules that are eternal, loving and designed by our Creator.

The first rule to know is that you are eternal and every man or being you interact with is as well. You are all Masters at play, and therefore there is an innate knowingness that we all have been gifted with the chosen role we are playing and, it is to be respected. You may not like it as you discern it, but you respect it and with your Free Will you choose how to play or not play with another being. Period.

No intergalactic brother will ever force or impose themselves into your divine existence, without your invitation. The reverse holds true as well, that you cannot force yourself into a realm that is not ready to receive you.

Many on Earth now are ready to receive the new world order with their Free Will as they know it is where the coming Peace on Earth resides. All the while many will not want to play here in this incarnation. Everyone gets to choose, there are no victims, but to play in the future of humanity on Earth you must respect and know this first rule: All beings are to be respected as the Masters they are, and nothing may be imposed on any without their consent.

The next rule that needs to be re-learned as men have the veil lifted is that of sovereignty. This means knowing thyself. Knowing your purpose in this arena and then reaching for the path and people to take you there. This rule creates a knowingness of oneself that has been forgotten by the majority of beings on Earth. That was planned and has been the Awakening of so many minds to their masterful and benevolent soul consciousness.

Our star brothers know without a doubt who they are and the role they are playing. They have not dropped into the Earth's arena as you — with your blindfolds on. They bow to you for your bravery in this incarnation as you have been an active part of pushing the edge of possibilities forward for all the Universe to watch and learn from.

The intergalactics who will soon be interacting with humanity are here to serve. They understand the Universal rule — that an act of service, to those who have asked with their Free Will — is an opportunity to have that service reflected back to themselves. Any act that can serve is literally a cherished honor. That is how our Universe plays the game as it only knows Love, sends Love and then creates more Love in its eternal expansion.

The Earth's humanity, beyond being "veiled" has been distracted by the few who have played with keeping the mass consciousness from knowing these truths, but as the many Awaken now they are understanding these rules from the inside out: resonating with their truths and showing with their words, actions and deeds that they now understand, that the past is to be cherished for the game played to date and that the future holds an arena for creation that is unprecedented for them to play in. An arena that is peaceful, respectful, mindful, and loving.

All beings are to be respected
as the Masters
they are, and nothing may be imposed on any without their consent.

This arena will honor these Universal rules and it is here now for those that choose with their Free Will to now play in it. The act of disclosing to the masses our benevolent star brothers has begun and will only accelerate as the true nature of the Universe is revealed through their actions of service. With this the Earth and her humanity may begin playing in both the galaxy she exists in as well as the full Universe.

The Earth is ready and stabilized. The galactics are ready and waiting to play. Are you? Maybe. Maybe not. It does not matter. What matters is that if you are, you need to respect the rules to play. Period. Can you learn to play on the new Earth? Of course! All are welcome.

Respect, Dignity, Grace

As I look across the planes of the Universe, I am breathless. The worlds we live in are truly spectacular, without exception. Our Creator has designed a set of magnificent “playgrounds” for us all to experience, including Earth.

There are common “rules of conduct” that those souls without a veil understand. Those souls now on Earth, where they have specifically chosen to forget who they are upon entry are gifted the opportunity to Awaken to who they are, and with that the memory of their existence while in the Earth’s playground.

Many lives that have and will continue to evolve eternally will remember as they choose what is asked by them, but there are three Universal laws that all who are Awakened on the Earth’s plane will know.

The first is holding a respect for all fellow men and sentient beings that have joined them in this incarnation as all are equal Masters of the Universe. To hold respect for another man, no matter what scenario a man is presented with, is a clear sign of a Master. It in no way suggests any and all behaviors be liked, but with discernment and then a choice as to play or not play, a man can easily turn to what he desires without any energy placed on fixing another man. Respect for every man's journey is a basic law of the Universe. Other laws may converge, but there are no mistakes in our Creator's grand scheme.

Respect for every man's journey is a basic law of the Universe.

Most on the Earth's plane have been trained away very systematically to a set of rules of behavior by many who are playing on a different energetic level. That training has included competition, sin, money, and religion. This "training" or programming is only an opportunity presented to the Masters who are ready to accept that this is a path of the evolution of one's soul, and that the more often the emotion of respect can be developed from discernment, the greater the reflection of this emotion is gained by the Master. So my advice: Respect everything, hold your dominion as to what you choose to play with and then move in the direction of your desires. This is a game for the Awakened at this time on Earth.

As you develop your ability to respect all beings and situations, you will understand the dignity in the action. When a man walks, talks, and behaves with dignity, it is because of his actions that are discerned by those around him. A man does not call forth that he is dignified. He is discerned as holding that trait by those around him. Many may be the time that you may not agree with another man, but you may still feel and observe how they handle themselves with both wanted and unwanted situations. Therein lies the growth of a man's dignity.

Nowhere else in the Universe now is there a playground where a Master may expand their dignity more than the Earth. There are so many opportunities to test your reactions in this playground designed with both light and dark energies. To discern, to choose, to respect all and then move in the directions of your desires as those around you, including your intergalactic brothers, observe your choices, as we are all one in this adventure, and then note the expansion of your soul with dignity. To walk as a dignified Master is the action needed now to bring about the Peace on Earth desired by so many.

As you now begin to realize, this is an “inside” task of growth for the soul and there truly is no better place to expedite this than on Earth in these times. Cherish your days as they unfold and present you with the varied opportunities for growth as you test your mastery. With that then comes the respect of honoring yourself as all is reflected back to you.

You will note and discern as you treat others as you would want to be treated that the energetic flow is more joyful, fuller, divine and exudes a graceful understanding of Masters connecting. This sense of grace is coveted as an act of service to the Universe which dwells in a graceful and eternal divine love.

I cannot over emphasize the need for these respectful, dignified, and graceful actions of the Masters walking your planet now. The calling to you to make these actions your way of life is from within as you remember who you are and where you came from. It is the path of Ascension in this beautiful playground as you walk out of the Third Dimension to your future Peace on Earth.

Eternal growth

How often I sit and dream myself of the progress I have made in my own personal growth as I have played on and within and from above the Earth. There truly is no more of a profound place to be than where you stand in your power here and now.

It is impossible for me to explain to you in words now the magnificence and scope of our Universal playground, but suffice it to say it is vast beyond your comprehension and can never be fully cognized with your here and now incarnation as setup by the rules of the game.

You are in the arena of play and your guides, loved ones and many others on this side of the veil are in the stands cheering you on. This is akin to the Superbowl or World Cup in terms of excitement for many, albeit without the need for a win as the game plays on and on.

You came to play! You prepped yourself like the finest of athletes with a playbook you would look to guide you. You designed your vessel, picked your teammates, and knew you would be in the game.

To be in the game now is literally a Universal achievement. You were selected based on your already existing Mastery and you hold that within you at all times. The crowds in the stands bow to your greatness and are breathless as they watch you in motion on the field. All of you, none excepted.

So why are you here you may ask: Because you enjoy the exhilaration of playing with other Masters. You all have a deep respect for your abilities, albeit they may be veiled to many for now.

As you Awaken to this true nature of companionship, respect and play your world around you in this arena is transformed and herein lies your personal growth.

Many people will never understand the sanctity of who they are during their incarnations, by plan. They will carry on under the guise of the veil unknowing of their mastery or cognizant of the lessons and growth they are creating for themselves as well as the Universe. Everything is expanding, eternally, in perfection for us all.

What is so very unique is that although our Free Will allows for so many options of how we choose to grow, it truly is a mystery, yet at the same time divine perfection. This is the magnificence of our Universe. We can play on and on knowing that the game of growth is never over and that we can never make an error in our actions.

From this it is wise to know that the past is the past and to let it be. Be grateful for it all. The future is ours to explore, but all is centered in the here and now. This is where all the action is! Playing life aware of the moment, aware of the miracles around you and aware that you are in control of growth is magnificent; an honor; and a grand privilege to explore as you spend your time here and now on Earth.

The future is ours to explore, but all is centered
in the here and now.

Mountains to climb

As you look up the mountain of your eternal journey you will find that it is beautiful, diverse, surprising in its infinite paths toward Ascension and most of all: it is entirely yours to behold. No one will ever walk in your shoes on your paths on your mountains.

The metaphor of a mountain for growth is a bit incorrect in that you have already mastered all as the divine being you are. This journey is designed to expand the mountains of love for the Universe. Your ability to choose, create and design new paths is the essence of creation for our Creator. As you have been created, then create, you provide more opportunities for creation of all dwelling in our Universe as we are all One.

Your journey is an experience that is impacting all, albeit you are in charge. The term to “move a mountain” many seem out of reach, but that is what you are doing with every thought and action you create.

As we move through the history of Earth, we see many parallels in this glorious time-space playground with civilizations that have come and gone and those of the future.

Do not overthink your
moves.
Just dance.

Past humanities had their own challenges, divinely planned, walked through by many souls and completed. Future civilizations are lined up for their opportunities to play on Earth, and for now the current humanity is deciding where their game will begin. All of this is a magical dance occurring in our Universe as so many await their chance to enter the dance floor and dance their own private dance for all to see.

Who is the best dancer? Everyone. What is the best way to climb the mountain? Dance! If you can only drag yourself out onto the dance floor, you are missing so much fun. Get out there and dance like no one cares – because all are doing the same at your vibrational level. Let it flow. Be easily relaxed as you move from song to song. You designed your playlist. Period. No one can take these “rhythms” from you, except yourself. And, as you move, breathe deep, let go, and move to the beat of your higher self flowing more directly with you. With this, it is my guarantee that your journey up the mountain will be more fun, lighter, and easier. As you move up the mountain with your energy many will want to join your “conga” line. This is your “tribe”, naturally flowing together. Do not wait for another man to dance his dance for you to start. Do not overthink your moves. Just dance.

This metaphor is my most direct way of letting you know that all is well for you. You are a divine Master of the Universe here to dance your dance in each and every incarnation.

You are fully able to climb each and every mountain on your now journey, and as you come to forks in your path if you are “dancing” it will be a very natural, almost without a thought ability for you to choose Love at each opportunity. This is the most divine road map as you move from peak to peak as there will always be more mountains to climb, eternally.

Rivers to cross

Every time a man chooses to see a new horizon there is presented to him new opportunities for growth. These opportunities are to be cherished and with that the decision to look for new horizons should become of utmost importance.

As then a man chooses to move forward to that new horizon, therein lies all the beautiful, new, and diverse landscapes he can then choose to play in, or not, but in all cases as he moves forward there will be rivers to cross.

Some may only be babbling creeks or streams. Others may require a steadied foot to navigate across. These are to open the body and mind to actions needed to practice for the crossing of a strongly flowing river. When at the shore of such a wondrous flow of water, alone and without a boat, a man must decide on his own the risk and reward of attempting to move forward across a barrier that is unknown, leaving everything behind. He will understand that moving forward, taking the plunge in with uncertainty is required to move to his new horizon.

No man will be judged for turning back or looking for a different route upstream. That journey is longer and may not yield any access to his new horizon, as the one he is standing in front of in the now.

It takes a leap of faith to make this decision with your current humanity who has been programmed with fear for their survival since birth. For those on the other side of the veil it is a kin to tasting a new food on a buffet. We know and expect it will be different. We anticipate it will be delicious and new, and we know without a doubt that we can move towards any horizon we choose with a sense of curiosity, trust and the joy the adventure will bring to us. Fearless.

This metaphor is given to you in love as many of you will Awaken to your powers and ability to cross any river at any time safely. With the introduction of more Fifth Dimensional horizons and rivers and peoples who are doing this, you will begin to unravel the old programing and delight as you move forward in this amazing experience you are having on Earth.

My guidance to you now is to seek out as many rivers in both your mind and on Earth to cross. Discern what the crossing may mean to you, and then choose Love for yourself, without fear. Do not waste a precious day here for your actions are, make no mistake, expanding the Universe for us all, as you expand your consciousness in this spectacular playground.

I am not asking that you start by crossing an ocean. Just start realizing that as you desire to move toward a new and different horizon the thoughts that arise from within. Do you quickly discount the opportunity as too hard; unattainable; you are too old, not strong enough? Or might you begin to say I want to play in that new horizon. I may not know how but I shall not fear anything as I take my first steps toward it. Can I change my mind? Of course, at any time with your Free Will. But start the process of discerning your fear and look to choosing Love for yourself.

I crossed many rivers when I walked on the Earth. Was I fearful? Yes at times, as I too was programmed from the beginning. But every time I made the decision to cross a bigger and bigger river with my desire to be the teacher I was at the time, and then made it to the other side, I smiled. I was satisfied and I knew that the opportunity was a gift.

This will be a process. It will be a new adventure for your soul. It should be fun as these are horizons you have personally chosen to pursue, and your journey will be unique as no man will ever walk in your shoes.

In closing I will say that this game is meant to allow you to feed your soul. Feed it with your decisions for Love. Cherish the rivers you cross with a knowingness of the value to yourself and know that you are able to choose every horizon and river before you for eternity.

Benevolence for all

Can you imagine a life of divine consequence where all men are treated equal, all men understand their mastery and all men live in grace? That is what lies now at the doorstep of your humanity. It is beautiful, sublime and full of Love. It is a sight to behold for us on our side of the veil as in watching a masterpiece reemerge from a rough stone.

As you look to the new evolved way of life you will find that beyond choosing Love over fear in your existence, you in parallel seek benevolent thoughts for all your fellow men. Give all men the respect to allow them their divine existence as planned and allow for an opening of your heart as you truly enjoy all interactions you have the pleasure of creating.

Benevolence is what a grandparent feels for their grandchildren. It is what any man may feel for a small animal abandoned or a fish out of water. An innate desire to help. An ability to act in a situation from the heart immediately, versus the mind with its filters. Action with Love to serve that is genuine, unconditional and honest.

You may ask then how the balance of light and dark became so unbalanced in these current times when the dark appears much too often and there does not seem to be enough of those wishing to serve available to get us back to Peace on Earth and the Garden of Eden. That is a long story in itself, but suffice it to say that the imbalance received Universal attention, Earth called for help and like a beacon, Universal masses of benevolent souls came running.

These peoples came for both sides of the act of service. To give and to receive. The Earth is not a “charity case.” It is like the finest adventure imaginable to serve within.

So here now awaits your benevolent intergalactic brothers waiting to serve your humanity. They did not come in vain. They are charged with emotions, Love and the tenderness of that of a mother with her newborn babe. It will be a magnificent reunion of all brothers who know each other so deeply at a soul level as it will be no accident, as there are none in our divine plans, that true soul family will be reunited to play again on Earth.

This concept is very important for you to grasp as our Creator, in his benevolence is giving a new opportunity to so many to play at a new level of creation. Man in his Third Dimensional body stretching with it to his Fifth Dimensional consciousness, as your intergalactic brothers reach gently through your veils to touch and then hold your hands. It will be stunning. It is why you came, and for many it will be good and full of Love for you all as it unfolds.

I have a dream that I hold on to daily of Peace on Earth. I know many of you do as well. Seeing different areas of your humanity begin to find this Heaven on Earth, there will be a quickening for others to do the same. It will all happen at a very fast pace. It will be accelerated by the new technologies that are being gifted to humanity as they will allow for a much broader range of communication between the peoples of your planet. Letting those that wish to travel a far and witness in person the peaceful sanctuaries that will be created will allow for this to be replicated as they return home.

Oh the differences of all the varying cultures of your planet are to be cherished, and they will continue on, but the underlying Love of peace and freedom to create as the Masters you are all will be profound. A lesson that you will pass on to the entire Universe with each and every action you take in this direction every day. Make no mistake; these acts of Love in the chaos of your Ascension are wondrous and being observed by so many now. My humble request to you all now is to continue to choose Love selfishly in the full knowing that you are in parallel radiating Love to your brothers across the Universe.

When you live in Love at all times for all, it is not taken for granted — oh no, but it is the focus of how the brothers of the Universe desire to expand their consciousness. They need to feed on your sparks of divinity and creation for a higher Love so that they may then create it for themselves.

This is true game of Love you are immersed in if you can frame your environment as a playground to “catch” the opportunities to choose Love over fear as they come your way. You are developing powerful skills as you learn to catch these balls of opportunities and then play them to your advantage. You will always win as you choose Love with them and it will make you smile for eternity as the Master you are now playing in this game.

Do not dodge the balls. Reach for all of them. Practice. Practice. Practice. If you miss one, let it go, then look for the next one being “pitched” to you. Keep your focus forward as it will do you no good to fuss over that ball you missed. So, so many are lined up now so play this ball game with a knowing smile of your Mastery as you cannot lose.

Oneness

Never has there been a more glorious day to cognize the unthinkable for many: separation. This is the game all the Masters of your now humanity are playing with. Separation under the illusional veil.

Therefore when a Master feels separation either from his higher self, his neighbor, or those from other lands and Universes; it is of no surprise to any of us on this side of the veil. It was their divine plan. To be lost in the illusion of being alone.

Illusion as you may understand now does not mean a truth. It may mean many things and evoke many emotions from the observer. One man may see the illusion as magnificent, whilst another may view it in fear. Just as a skier with different skiing backgrounds may view the top of a very steep slope. Therefore to judge one's perception of the illusion is inconsequential. You are not walking in another Master's shoes to judge any truths.

On the other end of separation is our Oneness which is our existence on our side of the veil. Oneness is not an emotion. It is not a way of life, nor is it a concept that can even be explored by those under the veil. But...as Masters pierce the veil in their curiosity of their existence they then begin to ask for their own personal understandings of who they are and how they “fit in” to the world above.

It is in their hearts that the curiosity begins, as it is where Love emanates. That Love pierces the veil seamlessly. We on our side catch that energy and it is then reflected back for them to feel and know. It is like having a taste of a beautiful food, blindfolded. There is a craving for more, a curiosity, a newness of an experience and a desire for more.

Oeness is that very special energetic connection among all sentient peoples in the Universe. It is not about losing any part of your individual magnificence as a Master, for that is eternal. It is about delighting in the heart to heart energetic connections that we experience. It is akin to the air you breathe in or water you drink. It is our sustenance. Love. It is done naturally, without any effort as the abundance of Love on our side of the veil is all encompassing.

Many men have chosen to take a “break” from the compassion and comfort of the Oeness their higher self and all live in on our side of the veil knowing that their separation will only make their desire to live in Oeness that much more delicious upon their return home. Like knowing the chill of being left alone in a winter snow storm, only to return home to the warmth of a cozy abode. Having felt the cold makes the warmth so much more appreciated on many levels.

Do you have to work at Oeness? No. It is your innate being, and as natural as taking a breath. Can you experience it on your side of the veil? Of course! Choose Love on your path and you will feel it. Is it important “to do” this? Yes and no. Yes for yourself if this was your divine plan and no, if not. You are never judged on our side for the beautiful Earthly game you came to play in.

I will note though in this time of Ascension that the Masters of your humanity are of a different creed. Like a man who has fished all their lives, they know how to fish more than many and cannot “un-see” the Oeness that surrounds their

When you choose Oeness,
the Universe
will respond
with Love.

existence. They may have “dropped” into the game of separation, but they very astutely also know they are here to wake up, pierce the veil, connect with the abundance of Oneness and then begin to play with that to move their energetic fields forward with humanity as one in a spectacular Ascension in a Third Dimensional physical form to a Fifth Dimensional existence which knows their plan and is delighting in it. This is the current game we are watching with delight. It is not a race. There are no winners, nor losers. It is an experience so individual and so important that it deserves all the Love that we can shower on all who choose to explore the Oneness of us all.

My advice: Play and experience and appreciate all of your days for they are yours to behold for eternity. When you choose Oneness, the Universe will respond with Love.

Our DNA

How can I begin to describe the power of your DNA? It is an all encompassing part of your eternal history. It holds the keys to all that was, is, and what is to behold for all. You have been falsely misled that it is a bodily system that you inherited. That you are a “product” of what you behold: good and bad. Perhaps a victim. Perhaps a “winner” as your society judges in this time-space reality. It has been taught that you have two strands that control bodily systems. You are being taught now it can be altered in a dish. Let me say now...the time for these untruths to be disclosed is now.

I ask for you to do a reset as you read my words here and now. Keep an open mind as I begin to explain to you the secrets that have been kept from you regarding your DNA. I will not discuss the reasons why you have had the truth hidden. I only want to open the door for you, as you choose, to explore this foundation of your magnificence.

Suffice it to say you are a child of the Universe, growing and expanding with each and every thought you process. Yes every thought, and these are recorded in the twelve strands of DNA you now hold in your bodies, not two. Yes your DNA

You share a DNA blueprint with
the Master.
It is operating on your behalf, at your direction,
at all times.

is a blueprint of the Master you are and have very specifically chosen to incarnate with here and now. It is operating on your behalf, at your direction at all times.

Is it malleable? Yes. Do you control it? Yes. Can others control it? Yes, but with only your permission, with your thoughts. At this point many of you may “turn off” as you are unable to cognize these statements. That is fine. But for those of you who are seeking greater truths about your existence, let me continue, because there is so much more to understand and love about your DNA.

The knowledge of the structure of the twelve strands of DNA was not known by many of your ancestors. What was known is that you had far greater capabilities to understand your past lives, communicate across the veil, know how to heal yourself and most importantly, that your best survival and ability to thrive in abundance was based on quietly going inside for guidance. There was a clear understanding that you asked in the old days with a knowing that you were heard and then an allowance to receive. What was not understood in the days of old was that your DNA was the transcriber from the actions of your initial request to the following allowance of your wants and desires.

Today, DNA is understood, can be seen under a microscope and studied. What cannot be seen by your current science are the other ten strands as they are quantum. They exist and vibrate at a frequency that is outside the range of your current equipment. So just as your ancestors could not see or cognize any strands of DNA, you are not “seeing” the other ten that exist. This is a reality that many of you may understand to be a truth, as you instinctively know that the current view on your reality of the world may hold many more “surprises” as technology progresses.

I want this to open your minds now to the potentials of these new strands of DNA that are laid down in every cell of your body. These are your very personal blueprints that are with you for eternity. They connect you to all that resides on the other side of the veil of your separation. They are like a cell phone to contact anyone, anywhere, at any time with their quantum power. As you descended into your separation game here and now, you turned them down to allow for your play to be unobstructed. That was easy in your civilization as they literally could not be seen.

So you may now ask: what are these other ten strands for? What do they do? This question deserves an entire new book, but I will give you what the chapter descriptions would be and then you may choose to explore any and all at your discretion.

- 1 They create a clear connection to your soul that allows for an eternal connection to all you have ever been and will be.
- 2 They lovingly support every cell in your body which only exists to keep you healthy and functioning fully.
- 3 They record each and every thought you have, which may be used for your discernment and the growth of your soul.
- 4 They allow a bridge for you to connect to all that is in the Universe through the quantum field.
- 5 They can allow for an immediate redirection of how your body exhibits itself by your intention: i.e. spontaneous remissions.
- 6 Your DNA knows you at levels that you cannot comprehend yet, better than you know yourself. It is your friend and it is to be trusted. As you may learn to call into it you will see the truths of your existence.
- 7 You can ask it for help at any time and it will respond with answers and actions at your direction. If you want to know about a past life, it has it all recorded.
- 8 Your DNA also maintains a record of all the thoughts and actions of every sentient being that has ever walked the Earth. Yes — it has this bandwidth to hold this history. I will expand on this by saying that many beautiful lessons have been and are continuing to be learned on Earth that are of benefit to many, many civilizations across the Universe. All may observe outside the Earth, but all who have ever incarnated, specifically hold these lessons of growth inside their DNA making it — with emphasis — very valuable.

- 9 How can I use or see or know my DNA? You need to wake it up! The term many are using now is to “activate” it. Once activated your powers as the Master you are can once again use it as they do on the other side of the veil. How do I activate it? Ask.
- 10 When DNA is activated it beholds for you the magic of the Universe. It reveals your powers, unleashes Love and is powerful enough to allow for you to move mountains and create new worlds.

At this point now many may be saying: I want this! I want to work with my DNA. I want to play in the here and now on a different level of existence. Some will not believe these powers you behold. That is fine. No one is to be judged for how you came to play your game here and now.

The activation of your DNA has been deeply controlled by many who have knowledge of these powers and have used them to control you in this playground. Almost like a bully who is holding all the toys and not sharing. Again, this is not being judged as you came to play — knowingly — with this “bully”, by design. Your design, for your growth.

How did this bully get the toys? By the subtle programming of your subconscious mind through media, schooling, government and the medical industry. It has been a game that has gone on a very long time. Even your very, very distant ancestors had some control, albeit so much less that most of you now, so they were able to intuitively connect and activate more of their DNA, more easily.

You today have literally been “hard wired” in your physical vessels to not understand your connection to your source, by design. In this most elaborate quantum game you choose to be separated and then you choose to go even deeper into the game for your personal growth. Although many would say, I never would have chosen to be so manipulated: you did choose. There are no victims in this game and it is playing out and resulting in the most fantastic growth of all on Earth and all being recorded in all DNA for eternity.

I realize these are big and new concepts for many, and that many will choose to turn away from my words as untruths. That is fine and applauded as you work through your beautiful incarnation.

It is important though to at least be aware of the power of your DNA on a different level so that as this information evolves into your society and culture you will have a place to start your discernment from.

As your new galactic star brothers begin to play with you on Earth, they are unveiled and know very well the power of their DNA. When you begin to see and experience feats of these brothers — you may well ask yourself, how can they do that? They look human. How can they fly? Stay healthy all the time without aging? Always exude an all encompassing sense of Love. Intuitively know what to do. Move mountains. They can do all of this as they understand their DNA and its power.

Future explorations

As the Earth continues its Ascension process the realms for man to explore will vastly expand both above and below the surface you are viewing and playing in now.

Vast civilizations are now residing comfortably under the surface of the Earth and have for millenniums. Vast civilizations are also existing in your skies aboard fabulous ships. All are waiting patiently and with a loving heart for the Ascension process to continue on for your incarnations to be all that you have planned, without interference. But now, as the masses are Awakening to facets of their true existence and power there is a calling to the Universe that is clearly heard for Peace on Earth. Freedom. Abundance. Oh so much more than what you have experienced to date. You innately know that things should be better, kinder, gentler because it is in your DNA and it resonates with your soul, for many of you.

This calling is being answered in the swiftest and most energy efficient path known: the introduction to the Earth's surface plane of brothers: Star brothers that can assist you in these desires.

Most humans will say: “oh no, I am afraid of aliens. All of my programmed senses tell me to run in fear for my life. They leave a path of destruction and are a grave danger to all.”

Well...that is not true for Earth. You are all safe and loved and respected. As disclosure of your star brothers is at hand you will all be able to experience this melding of civilizations in the most gentle of ways. We all understand you will need to see it to believe it. That is fine. But remember I am a star brother as well for you in these times and only wish to share my Love for you all more directly with my Second Coming. Yes, I am coming back in Love and with no judgement for a single soul as many have been programmed to believe.

Again, my words here may not resonate with many due to the deeply programmed fears of aliens and eternal judgments that abound. That is fine. I am only sharing these ideas as they are coming soon to be explored by all who choose. If you choose to stay low as the next chapters for all on Earth are “unveiled”, that is your respected choice. But if you choose to seek new truths about your existence and play with those of us living above and below what has been hidden from you, then I promise to those individuals you will be given opportunities to explore the Earth on so many new and beautiful levels, it will make your heart sing, your mind more focused and your existence in one of peace, for that is what is coming: Peace on Earth for all men.

Make no mistake, all men are welcomed into this Earth. Not all will choose to play in it for now, but they will choose to come play in it in the future for their very existence here and now is creating it with their desires. These strong desires are manifesting now. There is no stopping what is coming in terms of the changes to all aspects of your humanity.

My guidance now is to keep an open mind if you can, and as all evolves to dream big about your future existence, and then when you see new ways of living that you desire — say “I want that! I want to see this! I want to go there!”. The path to your desires will be laid ahead of you. All you have to do is ask.

The path to your desires will be laid ahead of you.
All you have to do is ask.

Awakening

As your civilization moves along an eternal path of expansion, the Universe views this as an “Awakening.” Your expansion is their expansion, albeit on a different level. Your expansion in these times on Earth is profound and it is by the most divine plan that you are here now.

The expansion and this Awakening are being “coded” and memorialized directly into your DNA, whether you are consciously aware of it or not. You get to go “home” with this beautiful prize at your choosing. Everyone does. This ability then to pull from the Akashic records for eternity will power you with the most significant lessons that have been created on Gaia. These lessons will propel you in the future, whence you will remember all. Like riding a bike; you will have this innate knowledge of what to do from these lessons learned by all men who have incarnated on Gaia.

The fact that you may or may not consciously “Awaken” during these time is inconsequential. It was your choice and it is honored. But, as the veil is lifted to your true existence as the Master you are, many will begin remembering. This is a very personal experience and no man can truly walk in the shoes of another's Awakening. You cannot make someone awaken, nor can you stop the process in another man. Many are trying, in both directions these days: to keep you asleep from your Mastery and to share how they personally awakened so to help you do the same as they did. Both efforts are acknowledged, but they hold no real power over what you personally designed for yourself. This is your game and you control it. Period.

With that, I ask, that you enjoy every moment in this wonderland called Earth and do your best not to fret about the past or wonder too, too much about the future, but rather stay in the now and make the most of it. You do not need to "try" to do anything. It is like telling a pro-athlete to go do a few more repetitions of their sport. Of course they will if they choose. If you relax into your existence then you will flow with your game plan. It is at this point: relaxed, that you can listen to yourself and turn down the noisy suggestions from others.

Your humanity for the most part has been brainwashed into thinking that all of you must work hard to survive, succeed, thrive and live in abundance. To worry about the future. To make notes about your past failures so they do not happen again. To make sure and correct any wrongs or sins you may judge.

I am here to tell you now these are energies are contradictory and do not resonate with your higher self. Oh yes, you may discern what you do not like: that was always a part of this game, but how you either move toward or away from your choices is all up to you. You are never a victim, nor is any other Master here and now. The thought that you may actually have complete control is too much for many. That is OK. When you are confused, this is the time to relax. Relax into yourself and listen. Listen for the Love from within. As you do this, your energy will become more coherent and you will put yourself in a position to make the best decisions for yourself.

The Awakening process on your planet and where it is headed can be seen and it is complete in terms of the rise in energy. Although many Masters will never rise to the new energy of Earth, that does not matter. That is not what they

Relax into yourself and listen.

Listen for the Love from within.

came for. They know these energies and much, much higher as that is how they exist on the other side of the veil. It is their “norm.”

For those “Awakened” teachers who so want the masses to wake up: it is for naught. Not planned. Not divinely designed. What does matter is that they are experiencing a rise in the energy of Gaia in their vessels, and working through new skill sets that they will carry with them for eternity. As a teacher myself, I say to those teaching of how to awaken: be gentle and respectful and cognizant that you are speaking to Masters whose higher selves know, without a doubt, what their plan is.

This divine “dance” of Masters on Earth now is no coincidence. It is what all who are here planned for and it is respected by all sentient beings in the Universe. So let this Awakening with Earth’s ascension be all that it can be naturally. It is real. It is happening now and it is nothing short of magnificent!

Universal truths to behold

The Universe is an ever-expanding playground without limits. There are though a set of truths that are ubiquitous among all the players. The first truth is eternity. It is a concept that is magical and truly foreign to many under the veil, but every soul and particle is eternal. The metaphor of a mother being eternal to her children speaks to this truth in your time-space reality, but it is so much more vast that you truly need to see, feel and understand it — but not until you pierce or return to the other side of Earth's veiled playground.

The second Universal truth is one of dominion of your soul. You are a sovereign being, born from Love, and you own and are in control of your existence, eternally. You have been deeply programmed not to believe this by many, but you are a Master in complete control of your destiny, eternally. Let this sink in, for it belies so, so much of what you have been taught by so many institutions in terms of sin, or being a victim. You are never as such. We know it as we watch your play on Earth and your higher self knows this truth. You are the avatar you designed and this is only one of many, many “play dates” you are experiencing as planned.

The third truth is that you are always expanding in many ways. Energetically, Spiritually, Consciously. This process is not stoppable. You cannot say “I think I’ll take a break, relax, or go back for a ‘do-over.’” That will never happen. You are all moving forward in your expansion and your time here on Earth is allowing for so much opportunity for growth, even for all the Ascended Masters — it is nothing short of spectacular to watch. The opportunities on Earth that have been set up with the game of duality: light and dark, have created the most magnificent tests under Earth’s veil for expansion. You are now in the arena: feet on the ground for this as the Universe watches and delights in the growth of all as one. Do not shy away from any situation. Embrace all with Love and know that you are making a profound difference in the futures of oh so many across all the galaxies.

The fourth truth is one of exception. What this translates to is that any plan you designed for yourself can be changed. As you grow and expand, you are learning, processing, and you are allowed to change directions, as you choose. You will never be viewed as having made a mistake, but only that you are adjusting “your sails” to make the most of any and all divine plans you have created. You are in control. You are sovereign. You are eternal and the last truth is that of Love.

We are living in a loving Universe. You were created in Love and you exist in Love. Eternally. The game of allowing for any fear under the Earth’s veil is only there for you to cognize it and expand your loving energy to all. It may seem at odds with so much you again have been programmed with, but you choose this separation very specifically. It is only for a very short time in your eternal existence, and it is what you and all the Masters around you have created.

If you can pull yourself up and away from the “playground” by turning off its noise these days which include the media, governments, religions, etc. and listen to yourself, you may just hear these truths for yourself. If not, that is your decision, but your higher self knows these Universal truths to be true.

We are living in a loving Universe.

You were created in Love and you exist in Love.

The majesty of our universe

Our Universe is one of many that are existing simultaneously in the wonder of creation that cannot be described in words. It is sensual, exotic, profound and they are all ever-expanding. Many other Universes serve as playgrounds of exploration, which many Masters on Earth now have experienced. All are very different and each has its own identity as a piece of eternity.

This is a big concept for those on Earth now veiled, but all will understand the full spectrum of creation when they cross back through the veil.

Our Universe is nothing short of magical and magnificent, and is where most on Earth began their journey from creation, but not all.

So how is it that our Universe is different? Consciousness. Thought. Emotions. All of these are swirling, expanding and connecting in the most efficient quantum field that unites us all.

When these concepts are acknowledged, many of you may sense a feeling of “smallness” as you understand in some aspects the enormity of your galaxy, and Universe, and then to add on even more views of multi-Universes. This is completely understood from your veiled perspective.

The lesson herein now is for those that want to dare explore the multi-Universe, you need only look inside yourself for all is there to behold. Remember, you are a Master of the Universe, and you hold all the knowingness of all within your DNA.

You are so, so much bigger and more powerful than you know to be true. You are all magnificent and together with all the other magnificent star brothers playing elsewhere you embody and represent the majesty of the Universe.

These words again may not resonate with many, and that is fine. Use your discernment and stick to your plan as designed. But I, by design are presenting these concepts to those who are ready to hear them. For those who have been asking about: Who am I? What does my existence stand for? What does it mean to be a human on Earth now? My guidance is to take three breaths, quiet your mind and listen to yourself. All you need is inside you for the asking.

As you incarnated you made a deal with yourself that this energetic system of information would be available to you. Whether you choose to tap into it is your decision. Your current science will not be able to confirm any of these Universal concepts as it is too small both technically and energetically. You on the other hand are limitless and contain all within. What a spectacular design for growth and expansion you are playing in now on Earth!

Hold you head high as you continue to experience all the beautiful shifting of energies on Earth now. See them through your eyes. Feel all the emotions. Use your innate Free Will to choose whatever path will serve you best.

Your Universe is watching all as your conscious thoughts are not constrained by your physical time-space reality. You are expanding this Universe and all the current “play” on the playground of Earth is only helping lift the energy of every sentient being existing with you now.

The call for love

As all men will come to know in their incarnations on Earth, their essence is Love. It is the frequency that binds the Universe as one organism that is thriving and expanding: eternally.

Therefore when you choose Love on your so many varied paths here and now you are a very integral part of the growth of all that is. It is innate. It should feel good and it will sustain you as a part of the whole.

You have been led away from this truth, but you cannot ever be fully separated from it — ever. Your separation under the veil allowing for any fear to guide your path, for whatever reason, is truly only a lesson we are all learning from. We all on this side of the veil; every human who has ever incarnated and every star brother thanks you for your service in your separation.

As the winds of change on Earth are now stirring, it is time to behold, acknowledge and adore your time here. These winds are bringing in new energies for all to continue playing in. The playground is now just being lifted up for those who have chosen now to stay, or for those who will choose again to venture into this miraculous time-space reality.

As you continue to play on the evolving Ascension of Earth, no matter how Awakened you may or may not be, it does not matter. Remember, there are no mistakes in your divine plan. You are moving with the energy of worlds inside your vessels, and that energy is Love.

You have been led away from this truth, but you cannot ever be fully separated from it — ever. Your separation under the veil allowing for any fear to guide your path, for whatever reason, is truly only a lesson we are all learning from. We all on this side of the veil; every human who has ever incarnated and every star brother thanks you for your service in your separation.

All of the Heavens are calling to you with these energies, which include all of your brothers throughout the Universe. You are a sublime Master that is respected, watched and adored for your service to Earth. Please do your best to acknowledge your mastery for within these times it is critical to the Oneness of all.

I will close with: Choose Love, no matter what you may move through on your journey, as did I, and you will smile about all more for eternity.

Remember,
there are no mistakes in your divine plan.

